

Building Institute and Library Value through Digital Collections

Bernadette Ewen, Director of Logan Library

Ryan Weir, User Services and Library Technology Librarian

IOLUG Fall Conference

October 21, 2016

Indiana Wesleyan University North Campus

Challenges = Motivation

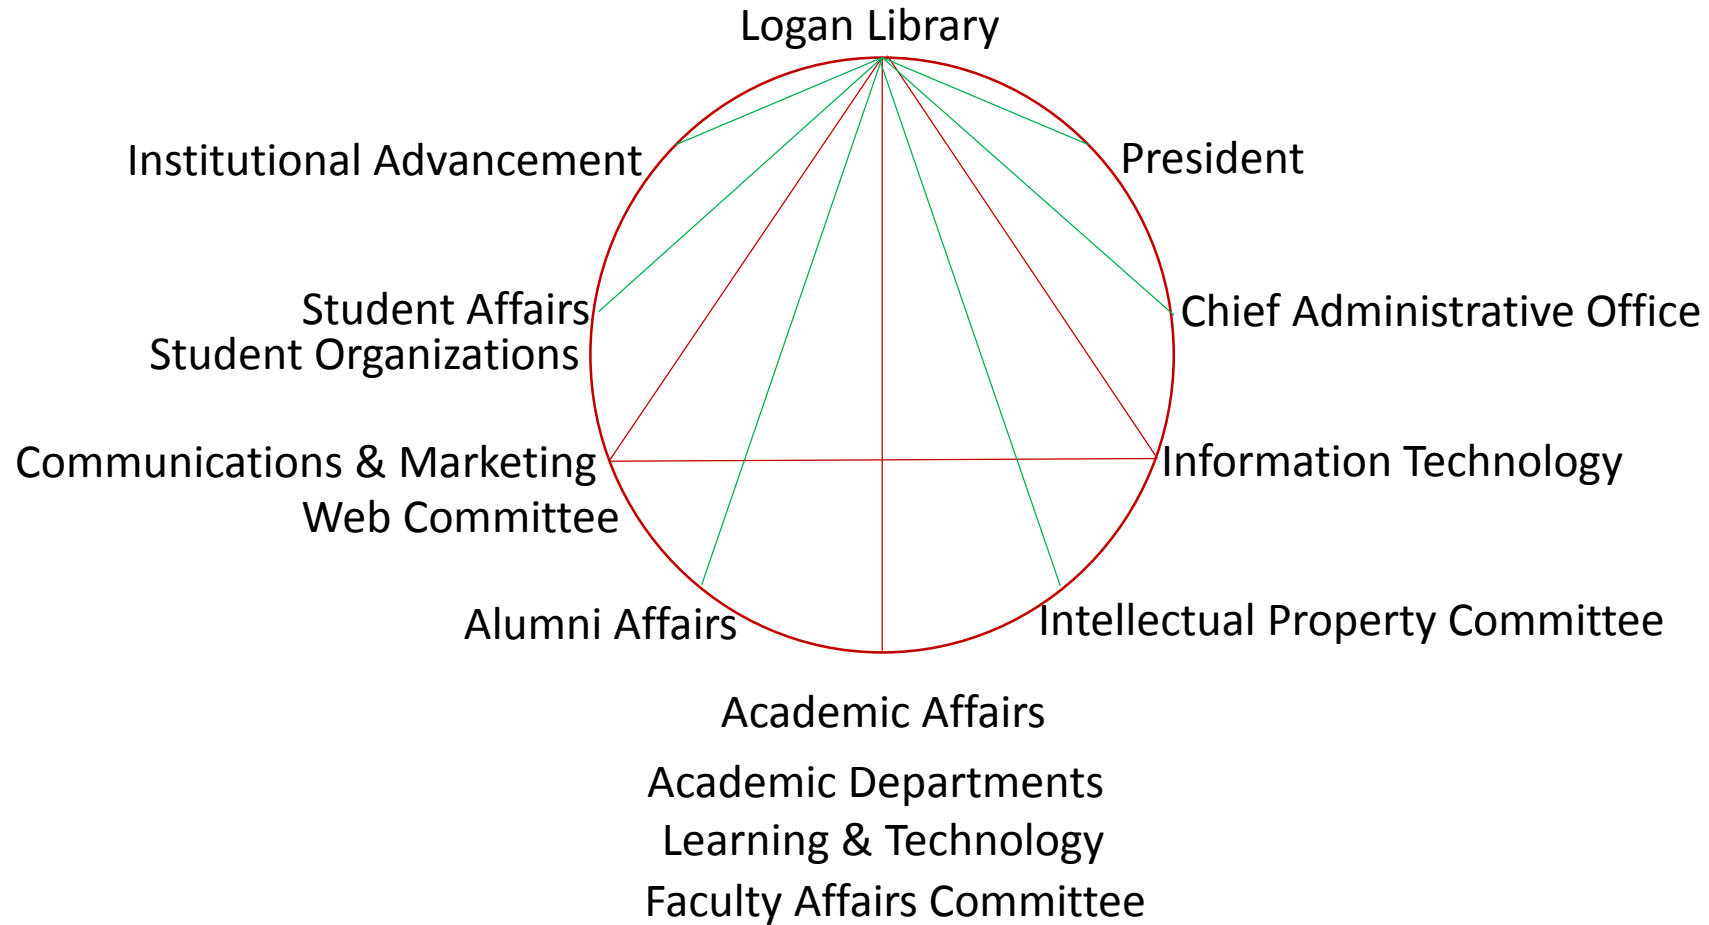

- Storage space was maxed out
- Information flow for Institute documents was narrow
- Information was difficult to find
- Historical insight needed to make decisions and answer questions
- New intranet / internet project on the horizon
- Departments and committees were asking the library for help with managing their content
- Important documents and photographs were not being donated to the archives
- Library was only digitizing content on an as need basis
- No external grant money received

The Strategy

- Identify where the library's mission and the institute's strategic goals coincide
- Network and investigate to increase understanding
- Engage with stakeholders to increase understanding and support
- Partner to increase participation and solution options
- Leverage current library resources and expertise
- Secure other required resources
- Inspire the team

Improve the archival preservation of highly valued content

Networking, Engaging, Partnering, and Inspiring

Building Value = Increasing Your Return on Investment

- Improving archival preservation of highly valued content
- Supporting institutional goals and library mission
- Improving customer service
- Developing new capabilities
- Building relationships
- Aligning projects, technologies, partners, resources, and solutions
- Improving management
